SOCIAL AWARENESS & WOMEN SOCIAL EMPOWERMENT

Usually AIDS patients are considered anti-social and immoral due to lack of proper knowledge of the disease. People still feel apprehensive to talk about AIDS. The dilemma is to such an extent that people feel awkward to even get their tests done. There is big gap between reality and social construct, due to improper flow of knowledge within the society.

Thus to fill this gap between the reality and social construct about the disease, we will play the important role of Mediator and Facilitator for the proper flow of knowledge about AIDS to the benefit of disadvantaged people in the society through conducting various Informative programs.

YMS's AIDS Awareness Program involves a multi-pronged sequence of events and interventions including educational, social, and medical efforts to contain the spread of HIV/AIDS, especially in rural areas. YMS continuously seeks solid partnerships with various like-minded organizations and individuals working toward common goals to alleviate the suffering of individuals afflicted by HIV/AIDS.

Social Empowerments of women by ensuring there direct access to and control over, resources through a sustainable process of mobilization:

- Establishment of self-reliant women's Self-Help Groups (SHGs).
- Creation of confidence and awareness among members of SHGs regarding women's status, health, nutrition, education, sanitation and hygiene, legal rights, economic upliftment and other social, economic and political issues;
- Strengthening and institutionalizing the savings habit in rural women and their control over economic resources;
- Improving access of women to micro credit; involvement of women in local level planning;

The program aims at enhancing women's to resources for better quality of life through use of hard work and time reduction devices, health, literacy & confidence enhancement and increasing their control over their income through their involvement in skill development\and income generating activities. The YMS has initiated Cancer Awareness program that is designed to develop a culture of health at home, work place, create awareness, and ultimately reduce the participants' risk of cancer through early detection and intervention. Cancer is a leading cause of death worldwide. Cancer often creates fear which comes out of ignorance and misconception. More than 30% of cancer cases could be prevented by modifying lifestyle or avoiding key risk factors. The objective of the program is:

- To create awareness of the disease.
